This year's Annual Meeting program will include the following panel of speakers:

- Dr. Susan Prichard – Forest ecologist with a specialty in wildfire ecology with the University of Washington. Her main interests are the effects of fire and other disturbances on forest dynamics, climatic change on forest ecosystems, and fuel treatment options to mitigate wild fire effects. Prichard lives near Winthrop.
- Michael Liu – Retired Forest Service District Ranger in the Methow and currently with Conservation Northwest.
- Samuel Israel – Contract forester and currently with Methow Valley Citizens Council.
- David Gottula - OCEC General Manager

The program theme is "The Power of Fire Preparedness, OCEC's Wildfire Mitigation Efforts". Dr. Prichard and Michael Liu will start the conversation at a high level on fire issues in the Methow Valley and Samuel Israel and David will go into more detail regarding OCEC's current Firewise fire mitigation program.

OCEC will be switching to summer hours,
Mon-Thurs 7AM-5:30PM
on March 1st.

5 STEPS FOR SAFE DIGGING

Working on an outdoor project? Always call 8-1-1 first, because you never know what's below. Here are five easy steps for safe digging:

Source: call811.com

1. NOTIFY

Call 8-1-1 or make a request online two to three days before you start.

2. WAIT

Wait two to three days for a response to your request. Affected utilities will send a locator to mark any underground utility lines.

3. CONFIRM

Confirm that all affected utilities have responded by comparing the markers to the list of utilities the 8-1-1 call center notified.

4. RESPECT

Respect the markers provided by the affected utilities. They are your guide for the duration of your project.

5. DIG CAREFULLY

If you can't avoid digging near the markers (within 18-24 inches on all sides, depending on state laws), consider moving your project.
